C.C.C. Camp Near Grass Valley Now Complete

The North Bloomfield C. C. C. Camp will, within a few days, be removed to the new winter camp on the Marysville road just outside of Grass Valley. Construction of this camp has just been completed and boys assigned to its buildings, are now cleaning up the premises preparatory to receiving such contingents of the C. C. C. as may be assigned to it.

The Grass Valley camp is one of the best yet constructed. There are five buildings, a barracks, a dinning room with kitchen adjacent, an administration building, recreation hall and blacksmith shop. In many respects, according to Forest Reserve officials the new camp is a model of its kind, built substantially to resist cold weather and to afford ample and comfortable quarters for the 250 boys and officers who will be quartered there.

YELLOWJACKETS SCORE AGAINST GRASS VALLEY

By THE CUB REPORTER

Nevada City's Yellowjackets, were able to sting Grass Valley's select eleven by just one goal (converted in Saturday's spectacular game. The score was 7-0.

Coach Barron's starting team stood as follows when Grass Valley kicked off at the opening whistle.

Left guard—Gene Thomas.
Center—Roman Rozynski.
Right guard—Merle Doolittle
Right tackle—Fred Browning.
Right end—Gove Celio.
Quarterback—Bob Tamblyn.
Left Half back—Murray Young.
Right half back—Tom Doyle.
Full back—Ralph Pierce.

Nevada City made its touch down in the first half a pass from Doyle to Tamblyn, followed by a line buck by Ralph Pierce put the ball over the last marker. Tamblyn drop-kicked the ball for the added point. This score Nevada City 7 Grass Valley 0 was unchanged as the final gun went off.

"The team" said Coach Barron, "put forth their best effort of the season in this, their last game. All of the boys did their best and I am well satisfied with the snappy way they clicked off their plays. Their success was, I think chiefly due to the experience they have gained in the past season. The boys all played such an excellent game that I will not attempt to choose outstanding players. Roman Rozynski, our first class center, acted as captain for this game."

Nevada City high school will give a benefit dance in the near future. The money received will be used to pay for football uniforms. The dance which will be given at the Redmen's hall, is to be a delightful affair and should be attended by all who are interested in our high school.

BISHOP PORTER WILL PREACH AT TRINITY

Miss Elma Hecker, superintendent of the Episcopal church Sunday School, is entertaining all of the classes at a theatre party Tuesday evening.

There are about 70 in the Sunday school and Miss Hecker is quite anxious that all the children attend the special services next Sunday at which time Bishop Noel Porter, will give them a special talk.

Bishop Noel Porter of the Sacramento diocese which includes Nevada county, will visit the Episcopal church in Nevada City next Sunday forenoon and will preach a special sermon to the Sunday school at 10 o'clock and to the adults at 11 o'clock.

This is Bishop Porter's first visit to the churches of Nevada City and Grass Valley.

A special program of music will be given by the Episcopal choir, with Mrs. Lyda Talbot as organist.

Ray O. Foster, who was formerly the superintendent and part owner of the Twin Sister mine, was a Nevada City visitor Saturday. He is now interested in opening the Sweetwater mine in Mariposa county.

ALUMNI TO HOLD DINNER RALLY

The University of California Alumni Association is holding a big prebig-game dinner rally Wednesday evening at the National Hotel. The diinner at 6:30 p. m. will be followed by dancing and card games. Judge Tuttle, in charge of arrangements, states that between 50 and 60 are expected to attend and a number of reservations have already been made by O. McCraney.

Anyone who has attended or graduated from any college will be welcome.

A large number of University of California and Standford graduates will attend the big game which will be held next Saturday afternoon in the Stanford stadium. Football fans of the two colleges are intensely interested in the comparative records of the two teams this season, which seem to indicate about a 50-50 chance of either side winning.

SCHOOL WARRANT REGISTRATIONS RUN TO $10,000

County Superintendent Mrs. Ella M. Austin has had a number of inquiries regarding the state registering of school warrants, so she wrote to the State superintendents office in regard to the matter.

She received the following answer yesterday: "The state interest rate is fixed at five per cent, while the school district rate is six per cent. Neither is dependent on the other or affected thereby. You continue by law to reckon six per cent as the legal rate," by Sam H. Cohn, deputy superintendent, public instruction.

There has been approximately $10,000 in warrants registered with County Superintendent Mrs. Ella Austin, awaiting the state apportionment. Some of the warrants are for two months and some are for a few weeks.

The state apportionment is very irregular, it is supposed to be due any time after the 15th. Last month it was allotted on the 26th and at that time there was not enough money in the funds to meet all the warrants.

It is expected the next apportionment will meet all registered warrants.

POSTMASTER ADVISES SHOP AND MAIL EARLY

The Christmas holidays are just around the corner. Postmaster Phil Scadden has issued the following advice regarding mailing:

"During the holiday time the volume of mail increases approximately 200 per cent. It is a physical impossibility to handle this great mass of mail matter efficiently and promptly within a few days. Therefore to assure delivery of their Christmas presents, cards, and letters by Christmas Day the public should Shop And Mail Early. Do your Christmas shopping so that you can mail your gifts, greetings, and letters to relatives, friends, and loved ones at least a week or 10 days before Christmas, according to the distance. This will not only make it certain that they are received before Christmas Day, but will be a great aid to your postal service and to postal employees and enable them to spend the Christmas holiday with their families.

"All parcels must be securely wrapped or packed. Use strong paper and heavy twine."

Given Life for Kidnaping

HUSSEY REVEALS EXCELLENT ORE

The ore chute recently encountered in the Hussey Mines of West Mines Corporation, has been drifted upon for some thirty feet and has shown steady improvement in both size and values. Orlando McCraney, president and manager of West Mines, states that he is now convinced that it is a major ore chute and that it will prove continuous for a considerable distance on both its strike and dip. The Hussey mine is now working on a two shift basis in order to hasten the development of the shoot on its strike.

Preparations are under way to sink the Hussey shaft an additional 150 feet at once and to develop the ore zone at the deeper level, where from the habit of the district, it is expected that the ore will be both larger and still better grade. The opening of the mine at this additional depth will furnish a sufficient area available for actual mining to permit the production on a considerable scale and on a profit earning basis. The work of sinking will be pushed through with all possible dispatch while at the same time drifting on the present mine level will be continued.

Sufficient ore is being broken in development work at the Hussey to run the West Mines mill steadily one shift daily. A full series of tests is being run upon the ore and results in recovery have been very gratifying. A gross recovery of about 95 per cent of contained values has been realized and the effort is being made to improve on this practice. Even on this small scale operation of the mill, the returns are proving of importance in the West Mines budget and present conditions give promise of profits at a not far distance dat

NEVADA CITY NIMRODS BAG QUAIL LIMITS

Lou Kopp, A. W. Hoge, Fred Breese, Fred Pitz went quail hunting in Calavaras county on Saturday on the Kopp ranch. They bagged the limit of quail in a place called Whiskey Slide, and after the days excitement they were invited to participate in a charivari party at a mountain settlement called Jesus Maria. This proved to be even more fun than quail hunting and the party stayed there until the early morning hours. They returned to Nevada City Sunday morning in time for breakfast.

RAPID WORK IN RAHABILITATION OF BRUNSWICK

A new surface plant was completed at the old Brunswick mine shaft Thursday taking the place of the temporary structure which was located on the site of the old plant that was destroyed by fire two years ago. It consists of a high headframe hoist and compressor room which are ready for immediate operations. R. Hathaway had charge of construction of the new plant.

The water level in the old Brunswick shaft has been unwatered to the 900 foot level. It is located about a half a mile to the southeast. At the new shaft, the water level is down to the 620 foot level.

A crew has cleared the caved collar, which extends for a depth of 300 feet and they are now clearing out the old 300 foot station.

The mine management of the Idaho-Maryland Mines Company is preparing for immediate construction of a large cyanide and flotation mill to handle the large lake of cyanide tailings from the Idaho-Maryland mine and the old Brunswick mine. It is believed these tailings average around $3 per ton and as there is an immense amount of these tailings which have been stored as far back as the Idaho Gap, it is felt with gold at $33 per ounce, will well repay working.

LOST ARTICLE AT HIGH SCHOOL ARE AUCTIONED

Friday morning, second period, the high school held an auction of the unclaimed lost articles, which have been turned in in the past two or three years. Ben Sweeney, Bob Tamblyn, and Bill Kirkham officiated as auctioneers. Fountain pens, Eversharp pencils, and combs were the chief objects of the spirited bidding aroused by the crafty and unprincipaled, if unexperienced auctioneers. The boys believe it or not, were the most reckless spenders on articles such as finger nail files, fancy combs, gloves, purses and jewelry.

MANY ATTEND NEW BEAUTY SHOP OPENING

Many prospective patrons attending the opening of the Marigold Beauty shop in the Davies-Transcript building in Commercial street Saturday. Exclamations of admiration marked the afternoon as the ladies of Nevada City examined the latest electrical appliances for the making of beautifud coiffures.

The new shop, opening directly off the street is owned by Mrs. Wanda Hatfield. She is assisted by Miss Carmel Veck, Mrs. Pearl O'Leary and by her husband Mr. Richard Hatfield, hair cutter and designer. The new establishment will prove a great boone to Nevada City patrons, many of whom have longed for a shop o fthis high standard and modern convenience.

HENRY MEARS CALLED BY GRIM REAPER

Homer Mears, well known Nevada City resident, passed away at the county hospital Saturday afternoon after a lingering illness.

He was held in high regard by his friends. Mr. Mears followed mining for many years, later clerking in soft drink establishments when his health became poor.

Funeral arrangements and services will be conducted by the Holmes Funeral Home as soon as directions are received from relatives of the deceased.

COLLEGE STUDENTS VISIT HOME

Home for the week end with their parents and to see the Nevada City-Grass Valley game were Miss Betty Bettles and Warren Chapman of the University of California; Bill Tamblyn and Delbert Schiffner of Sacrament Junior College.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Jackson, Mrs. Arthur Elliott attended the St. Mary's—Stant Clara game Saturday.

Volunteers Build Ski Jump For Amateurs

A faithful group of volunteers, spending their Sundays in hard work are gradually getting the Ski club grounds into shape for what is expected to be the club's premier season for winter sports.

Yesterday this group borrowed a county tractor from Supervisor Cary Arbogast and cleared off a ski course for amateurs, which will give a shorter and safer jump than the hill used by professionals and ski adepts.

The volunteers in yesterday's working group were: Walter Carlson, J. Clark McGinnis, Joe O'Neil, Dick Parsons, Ellis Clark, Ted Deal, Mr. Lance and Mr. Snyder.

They report that one more day of hard licks and the Ski club will be ready for snow and the program of sports.

DRUNKEN DRIVER PLEADS GUILTY

Arraigned for driving an automobile while intoxicated, Elmer Ford of Forest Hill, on Friday pleaded guilty in the Superior Court and asked for probation. The request was referred to Probation Officer A. W. McGagin for a report.

Attorney H. D. Robinson of Auburn, appearing for Mrs. Bessie Gerald, Grass Valley resident, accused of purloining a diamond ring from Jack McKinnon, made a motion to set aside the information on the ground that the evidence cited was insufficient to sustain the charge. After hearing arguments by Attorney Robinson, and District Attorney W. E. Wright, Judge Raglan Tuttle took the matter under advisement. Herman Fiske, accused of complicity in the same offence, appearing without counsel or means of employing one, was assigned William Cassetari of Grass Valley to defend him.

COPPER VEIN ON LITTLE FORK OF NOR. YUBA RIVER

Frank Clark, who owns a number of mining claims above Downieville brought down some fine looking specimens.

The property is located on the Little Fork of the North Fork of the North Yuba.

An unusual discovery was a sort of vein or deposit of copper that is from 5 to 15 feet wide. The ledge is traceable for a considerable distance but as there is considerable overburden the length was uncertain. It is thought that possibly this is the beginning of the copper belt that extends on to the Walker mine in Plumas county. The ore has copper sulphides which contain chalcocite, bornite, and chalco pyrite. A gossan outcrop with sulphides which occur within two feet of the surface and grading into solid sulphides near the surface, are also to be found.

Selected samples run to 40 per cent copper and also contain low values in gold and silver.

The dyke in which the gold quartz occurs is probably a quartz porphyry dyke tha thas been rather thoroughly brecciated and in some places a part of the dyke rock has been replaced by quartz carrying good gold values.

The property is just in the prospect stage with a number of good open cuts on its surface. It holds a promise of developing into a big low grade proposition, and is surrounded by mines that have produced well in the past. Some of them are Four Hills mine, Willoughby and Empire.

ENTERPRISE MINE TO RESUME OPERATIONS

The Enterprise mine in the Quaker Hill district, has resumed operations in the last few days.

Erection of a 40 foot headframe has begun and the necessary mine machinery for active operations is being installed.

This company encountered a heavy flow of water sometime ago and it was necessary to install a powerful pump to keep the mine unwatered.

P. G AND E. TO RUN 700 FOOT TUNNEL FOR BEAR CANAL

The Pacific Gas and Electric Company will shortly start construction work upon a 700-foot tunnel by which the course of Bear River canal will be changed so as to avoid a horseshoe curve in the center of which a cave-in of the bank occurred about two months ago and temporarily put the canal out of business.

The break occurred near Colfax about three miles down stream from the intake. Service was reestablished within five days from the date of the accident by the construction of a temporary flume; however, investigation by the company's engineers has shown that the nature of the ground in the damaged section is so unstable that further landslides might take place, so it is planned to avoid such a contingency by the construction of this tunnel which will convey the water in a direct line across the base of the horseshoe. The point of dversionn is about 600 feet above the break, where the ground is of rock formation. The tunnel will be bored through rock its entire distance. In this way the company expects to insure the canal against further trouble. Incidentally, it will shorten its length by about 500 feet. The work will be under the direction of the company's general construction department and its cost is estimated around $50,000. It will be a night and day job and three shifts of workmen, twelve to a shift, will be employed.

The Bear river canal, which is one of the oldest mountain canals in California, dating as far back as 1851, forms part of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company's South Yuba-Bear river development which was started in 1912 with the construction of a 300 foot dam at Lake Spaulding and whose power-generating resources include three hydro-electric plants at the lake and three below, the Drum plant in Bear river gorge, the Halsey plant in Christian Valley, above Auburn, and the Wise plant in Auburn ravine between Auburn and Newcastle. The canal at that time underwent complete reconstruction in order to accommodate the increased volume of water diverted from the river and about four years ago, following an extension of the system, it was again enlarged. The intake of the canal is on Bear river about one mile from Colfax and it carries water down the valley for power and irrigation purposes. It is about twenty miles in length and ends at Halsey forebay. Below Halsey the water conduct bears the name of Wise canal.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence plan to carry new and used parts of cars, sell used and new automobiles, do all sorts of repair work, including body and fender work, besides auto painting.

They also will erect several cottages on the property to rent. They plan to build a swimming pool near the cottages.

HIGH GOLD—LOW DOLLAR

Strangely enough, there's no economic subject the average citizen knows less about than money. He uses it daily, but the tokens with which he barters, aren't really money at all. Their only value lies in the credit of the government issuing them. Real money is seldom seen—it is gold and is jealously hoarded by treasuries.

As a result, the average citizen was pretty well puzzled when the U. S. Government announced that it had started a world gold buying campaign in an effort to raise commodity prices. He couldn't see the connection. As a matter of fact, the connection is simple enough if simply explained—it's very much like an auction. The more people you get to bid for an object, the more valuable it becomes. That's true of gold When the United States went into the market here was another important bidder for the yellow metal, and its price rose accordingly. At the same time, the value of the dollar, which has a definite gold backing, declined, and commodity prices went up. Briefly described, the dollar has been cheapened, and it is worth less wheat, clothing or gasoline than it was a while ago.

At the moment, the world's free gold supply, if melted down, would amount to a ten-foot cube, worth about $400,000,000. Since 1492, when Columbus discovered the new world, all the gold mined would amount to only a 40-foot cube and over half of that has vanished, either through being sunk in ships, made into jewelry, or hoarded.

Most important foe of the U. S. gold policy is the British Empire. London is the world's largest gold market, and any buying campaign will naturally center there. Dollars are exchanged for pounds, in order to buy in the Engish market, thus increasing the international supply of American currency and increasing the demand for English currency. A more expensive pound must follow, discouraging Britian's foreign trade. Matters are at a deadlock. It's going to be a monetary battle of the giants, with the two greatest financial powers of the world opposed.

SWOPE PLAN VS. N. R. A.

Criticism of Administration policies, which was practically non-existent a few months ago, has been gradually appearing, becoming more widespread. There is a definite feeling of nervousness, mostly on the part of large-scale business men. Their theme song is "Individualism, Where Art Thou?" and the villain in the piece is the fact that the government is steadily assuming more stringent control over al phases of business, showing no signs that it will relax this policy.

These business men cheered the recovery plan recently presented by Gerard Swope, General Electris's able, far-sighted president. Briefly stated, the Swope Plan proposes the setting up of an organization very simiar to the NRA with this essential difference—control would be in the hands of boards of business men instead of government officials. Not pleased by it at all were labor leaders who doubted that the boards of big corporation executives would protect workers.

President Roosevelt said of the Swope proposal that the present time is not propitious for a change in plan—that "the next few months are expected to bring forth hundreds of other plans." Then he issued a summary of reports showing late achievements of the NRA, including: New employment for 2,00,000 people; increase in industrial outlets; a 20 per cent rise in hourly wages and 40 per cent drop in working hours. To his defense came distinguished Professor Edwin Seligman, saying that the depression is actually ending; that for the first time in history recovery from the bottom is being speeded consciously and effectively; that there is no basis for fear of uncontrolled inflation; that we are in the midst of a social revolution within the framework of capitalism, which promises lasting benefits.

Another very important bone of contention is the securities act. Some of the Administration's best friends, as well as business executives, believe it needs overhauling, is not only preventing issuance of worthless securities, but securities entirely legitimate and most essential to industry.

A PROPER TIME—PLEASE

I sit beside the radio
And grow most wondrous wise;
The things I hear from day to day,
Submerge me with surprise;
Wierd, crooning voices freight the air,
And make me dully blue,
Why are the love lorn now so sad?
I rise to ask of you.

Music hath charms? Well, there's enough
To saturate my soul;
Pianos ripple, fiddles wail,
And mighty organs roll;
Jazz bands and symphonies divine
Come each in turn along,
And every caliber of voice
Is lifted up in song.

On calm and restful afternoons,
I'm blandly told to take,
"A cup of flour, some eggs and milk,
And stir, and mix, and bake."
I'm urged to take now this now that
Sure cure for mortal ills—
Strange waters from the font of youth
Pressed hay and sugar pills.

Last evening, when my guests arrived,
And we sat down to dine,
I turned the dial until I found,
Some music rare and fine;
But—suddenly, we stared, aghast,
And moaned, "Oh dear, Oh, Oh!"
A vibrant voice broke in to tell
Of gall stones and B. O.!

So now, I shout emphatically,
To sponsors good and bad,
For Ra's sake, choose a proper time
In which to air your ad!

WEEKLY COMMENT

By CHRISTIAN ANDERSEN

Do not forget the firemen's dance on December 30, 1933. Almost any fireman will sell you a ticket.

The Mrs. went to the P. T. A. meeting or rather a council meeting of Placer and Nevada county and she learned a lot of interesting things about how to interest children in the things they ought to be interested in. From what she told me afterward, the women of the P. T. A. are doing good work.

The many California agencies for advertising in the state do a creditable job of telling about the wonders of its climate and other attractions. So much is this the case that when I first got o nthe ferry at Oakland I walked to the brow of the boat and on glimpsing the city by the Golden Gate I felt as if one of my most cherished ambitions had culminated in complete success.

In yesterday's metroplitan papers there was a story and the answer was given to this question, WHO WILL PAY FOR RECOVERY? It is on page 16, section one of the news section, column five. I mention this because it is so hidden in the paper that it is not easy to find. But it is so clear and concise that perhaps some of you who still have the Examiner of Sunday will wish to read it.

I have been writing this column for almost a year, the job has always been approached with a humbleness of heart. I have never willfully offended anyone and I hope that those of you who have read my little stories have enjoyed them and that I have been of some help to dissipate the boredom of living.

WAVERLY KESSELRING IS BORNE TO REST

The funeral of the late Waverly Kesselring, 44, who passed away at his home in Sacramento the latter part of last week from scarlet fever, was held at two o'clock this afternoon in Sacramento.

He was the representative of the Carlisle Company, president of the Sacramento Valley Baseball League, during the past year, and a prominent citizen.

Mr. Kesselring often visited Nevada City in the interests of his company making his headquarters at the National Hotel. He was genial and kind and respected by all who knew him.

The county officials and assistants at the court house were deeply touched by his death and sent beautiful flowers as a token of their esteem.

Thomas Botting, mining man of the Quaker Hill district, was a Nevada City visitor recently.

FRENCH CORRAL

By Mrs. Kate M. Sullivan

FRENCH CORRAL, Nov. 16—We are enjoying delightful weather, although indications for rain were very promising the early part of the week.

Cattle are still moving from the mountains to the foothills. A large drove passed through here yesterday.

Armistice Day passed quietly, but some of our neighbors went to Nevada City to witness the parade. This day whether given public celebration, or not, must ever be remembered by our American people. "Our boys," who "went over seas" whether our neighbor or our our own can never be forgotten.

Geo. L. Murphy and daughter, Mrs. J. Reilly of San Anselmo visited relatives in French Corral last week. Both had been in poor health but after spending several weeks at their old home in Montezuma Hill, have found in its invigorating mountain air, a panacea for their ills.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Olive and nephew, Don Jarvis, of Sebastopol and Mrs. Olive's brother, Edward Hilton of Marysville went to Marysville Sunday. Mr. Olive and Don Jarvis will return to Santa Rosa after a short visit with relatives in Marysville and Mrs. Olive and brother will return to French Corral.

Mr. Cory and N. B. Bishop had business in French Corral Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rowland went to Sacramento Saturday

E. Jarvis and W. Thomas came down from Pike City Saturday and returned to that place Sunday. They attended the dance at North San Juan Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. V. Fernandez of Sacramento visited friends in French Corral Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Culver went to Grass Valley Saturday to attend th efuneral of the late Ernie Brown.

E. De Prati has returned to his home in French Corral where he will remain for awhile.

We regret to say, that our Nevada county peace officers had occasion to spend two days in this section as some of our residents are up against charges of stealing.

Mike O'Connor returned to his home in Birchville Saturday after spending the past six weeks in Sacramento. He was accompanied by his sister, Miss Lucy O'Connor, who will remain for a visit with the members of her family.

Mr. and Mrs. Christensen and three children of Nevada City have moved to Birchville and are living in the old O'Mara home now owned by Mr. A. T. O'Connor.

We were very sorry to learn that our neighbor N. F. Thompson had suffered a stroke of paralysis and sincerely hope that his condition will soon improve.

His neighbor, the genial Frank Bott, who is a general favorite with everyone who knows him, is still suffering from a like ailment which came upon him months ago. His condition is very serious and grave fears are entertained for his recovery. This trouble has worked a great hardship on his family, who have the kind sympathy of all their neighbors.

CRANBERRIES PRO AND CON

Now we are not going to start an argument, for we do enjoy the "Weekly Comment" of Chritian Anderson, but we are going to disagree with you Christian, when you state that "the raw cranberry is not the least bit picturesque."—In "Klondyke days", and in the Klondyke berries of all kind, especially cranberries abound. Men of the "Tyee" set frequently wear a boutonaire of ripe cranberries, when that berry was in season. You can hardly imagine a prettier boutonaire. The shiny green leaves and rich red berries shading down to almost white according to stage of maturity of the berries. and before the age of colored electric lights and tinsel ornaments etc., don't you remember, (or perhaps you were too young?) how we used to string popcorn and big red cranberries to make festoons to adorn and beautify our Christmas tree? Passing a needle and white thread through those big red berries did not take one whit from the delicious sauce and jelly into which they might afterwards be converted. Yes, the latter looked good to us too. Christian but the cranberry is certainly picturesque if one wishes to convey the thought of the beautiful.
